Comparing The Top 5 Content Spinners [Case Study]

Since we get asked quite often about which content spinner produces the best results, I decided to take the top 5 tools in that category and compare them in an equal manner. What do I mean by saying equal manner? Well, I will write a unique paragraph of content and I will spin it with each of these content spinning software to see what results I get. This will be fun.

The Structure of This Case Study

- A quick introduction - which are the content spinners that we will test out, and what is the default text we are going to use?
- Spin results - I will spin the default content with each of the content spinning tools and share the results with you.
- Pros and cons - we will look at each of these 5 content spinning software's pros and cons.
- Rankings - which of these spinners is the best and for which situation?
- Price comparison - we will compare each of the spinners' prices side by side.
- Conclusion

Intro

Let's get right to it. For this case study we will use the following content spinning tools:

- WordAI
- Spin Rewriter
- The Best Spinner
- Chimp Rewriter
- Spinner Chief

And here is the default text which we will be spinning:

Once upon a time there lived a boy. He had blue eyes with blond hair as yellow as gold. The young boy was small and fragile, but his mind was swift like the wind. He could calculate the outcome of any situation in the blink of an eye. But that was not his biggest talent. No. His biggest talent was perception. The young boy could understand and perceive anything faster than anyone he had ever met. Then, he fell in love with a beautiful princess. She had magnetic green eyes and light brown hair. He loved her very much and she loved him back even more. There was only one problem - the young boy was the son of a blacksmith. The princess's father would never allow her to marry a simple son of a blacksmith. But their love was too strong. In one fell swoop, the young boy raised an army of undead and started a rebellion to overthrow the evil king who did not believe in true love. After months of fighting against the armies of his beloved's father, the young boy was assassinated and the war was over. No songs were sang.

I wanted to add some phrases in the text to see if the spinner will understand them and possibly replace them with similar phrases. As you see, this is just a simple short story that blew out of my head just a minute ago. As a final note of the intro section, I want you to understand that "thesaurus" simply means a database of words and their synonyms. Let's see how this goes.

WordAI

WordAI is probably the most famous content spinning service. Many people swear by it and the quality of the content it produces and it is not empty talk. But let's see how it will spin my short story. WordAI has two modes of spinning - "Standard" and "Turing", with the latter being the one that produces better results. I will spin the text with both of them.

WordAI Standard Spinner

It took about 20 seconds to spin our short story and here is a unique version of the spin:

Once-upon a period there stay a child. He'd orange eyes with blonde hair as orange as platinum. The small child was delicate and little, but his brain was quick such as the breeze. He might determine the end result of any scenario within an eye's flash. But which was not his greatest skill. No. His greatest talent was belief. The small child understand something quicker than anybody and might comprehend he'd actually achieved. Subsequently, he dropped with an attractive queen in deep love. She'd light-brown hair and magnetic inexperienced eyes. He liked her greatly and he or she liked back him much more. There is just one issue - the small child was the blacksmith's boy. The queenis dad would not permit her and an easy boy of the blacksmith to marry. But their love was not also weak. In one swoop, the small child began a revolt to overthrow the bad master who didn't have confidence in real love and lifted an army of underworld. Of fighting from the armies of his favorite's dad after weeks, the small child was assassinated and also the battle was not under. No tracks were performed.

I really like how WordAI replaced "in the blink of an eye" with "within an eye's flash". This proves that they have some database of similar phrases. Overall, the spin is good, and will most probably pass Google's test for readability without any problem.

The generated article above has a uniqueness of 95% according to WordAI. I am attaching the spun content below for anyone interested to see it:

WordAI Standard Spinner Results

WordAI Turing Spinner

This time it took a little more time - around 80 seconds - to spin our default text and here is an unspun unique version of the it:

Once upon a time there lived a boy. His head was swift such as the wind, although the young boy was little and fragile. He could calculate the results of any problem in the blink of an eye. But that wasn't his largest talent. No. His biggest talent was perception. The young lad could comprehend and perceive anything faster than anyone he had ever met. Afterward, he fell in love with a beautiful princess. She had magnetic green eyes and light brown hair. He loved her very much and she adored him back even more. There was just one issue - the young boy was the son of a blacksmith. The princess's father would never allow her to wed a simple son of a blacksmith. However, their love was too powerful. In one fell swoop, the young boy raised an army of undead and began a rebellion to overthrow the evil king who failed to believe in genuine love. After months of fighting against the armies of his love's dad, the young lad was assassinated as well as the war was over. No songs were sang.

The uniqueness of this spin is calculated at 80% by WordAI, but as you can see, the quality is just light years ahead of what WordAI's "Standard Spinner" produced. It is completely human readable, but still quite unique. Here is the spintax file for anyone interested:

WordAI Turing Spinner Results

Spin Rewriter

Spin Rewriter has also become one of the most famous content spinners in the world of SEO (check out our in-depth tutorial and honest review). The software does not have different spinner modes like WordAI, but it does have a lot of settings which help control the quality of the output. Here is a version of the spin of the default text:

In the past there lived a kid. He had blue eyes with blonde hair as yellow as gold. The young kid was vulnerable as well as little, yet his mind was speedy like the wind. He might compute the end result of any type of scenario in the blink of an eye. That was not his largest skill. No. His largest skill was assumption. The young child could possibly view and also recognize anything faster compared to anybody he had actually ever before fulfilled. He dropped in love with a gorgeous princess. She had magnetic environment-friendly eyes as well as brown hair. He liked her quite and also she liked him back much more. There was just one issue - the young kid was the kid of a blacksmith. The princess's papa would certainly never ever enable her to wed an easy boy of a blacksmith. Their love was also solid. In one dropped swoop, the young child increased a military of undead as well as began a disobedience to topple the wicked king that did not count on beloved. After months of combating versus the militaries of his loved's dad, the young kid was executed as well as the battle ended. No tunes were sang.

The content above is 98% unique according to Spin Rewriter and I really like it. It actually seems better than the WordAI spin - only the "Standard" one however, it is no match for the "Turing". One thing that the spinner failed to recognize is the "green eyes" phrase where it replaced it with "environment-friendly". Yea, I laughed too. Anyway, here is the spintax for those interested in more testing:

Spin Rewriter Results

The Best Spinner

The spin was quick since The Best Spinner is a desktop application and here is a random version of it:

Not so long ago there lived a boy. He blue eyes with blond hair as yellow as gold. The young boy was smaller than average fragile, but his mind was swift much like the wind. He could calculate the outcome from a situation within the blink of the eye. But that was not his biggest talent. No. His biggest talent was perception. The son could understand and perceive anything quicker than anyone he'd ever met. Then, he fell crazy about a lovely princess. She'd magnetic green eyes and light brown hair. He loved her quite definitely and then she loved him back even more. There were only 1 problem - the young lad was the son of your blacksmith. The princess's father would never allow her to marry an easy son of a blacksmith. On the other hand love was too strong. In a single fell swoop, the young boy raised an army of undead and commenced a rebellion to overthrow the evil king who didn't trust soul mates. After months of struggling with the armies of his beloved's father, the young lad was assassinated as well as the war was over. No songs were sang.

As you can see, it produces good and readable content, but it is below the quality of both Spin Rewriter and WordAI in my opinion. Here is the full spintax file:

The Best Spinner Results

Chimp Rewriter

This spin was also quick since Chimp Rewriter is also a desktop application and here is a random version of the spin:

Once upon a right time there lived a child. He had eyes that are blue blond locks because yellow as gold. The boy that is young small and fragile, but their mind was swift like the wind. He could calculate the results of any situation in the blink of an eye fixed. But that had not been their talent that is biggest. No. His talent that is biggest was perception. The child that is young comprehend and perceive anything faster than anyone he previously ever met. Then, he fell so in love with a princess that is breathtaking. She had magnetic green eyes and light locks that is brown. She was loved by him very much and she loved him back also more. There is only 1 problem - the boy that is young the son of a blacksmith. The princess's father would not allow her to marry a son that is simple of blacksmith. But their love was too strong. The young boy raised an army of undead and started a rebellion to overthrow the wicked master who did not have confidence in true love in one fell swoop. The young kid ended up being assassinated and the war was over after months of fighting against the armies of his beloved's father. No songs were sang.

You can clearly see that the quality of the article produced is good, but is worse than the previous 3 content spinners we looked at. But, it should still pass as human readable - think of it as someone who doesn't know English very good, wrote it. For further testing, here is the spintax file:

Chimp Rewriter Results

Spinner Chief

Spinner Chief has two modes of spinning - the default one uses the default thesaurus file, and the "Super Spin" uses the "Miracle Thesaurus" built by the Spinner Chief team.

Spinner Chief Default Spinner

First, let's see what the default spinning mode can do:

A long time ago there existed a boy. He previously blue eye with okker hair when yellow like gold. The particular young son was small, fragile, although his mind was fleet like the wind flow. He could calculate the outcome with any situation in the blink of an eye. But that had been not the biggest skill. No . Her biggest creativity was notion. The fresh boy might understand plus perceive anything at all faster as compared to anyone he ever attained. Then, your dog fell in love using a beautiful princess. She had magnetic eco-friendly eyes and lightweight brown scalp. He cherished her significantly and the lady loved your ex back a lot more. There was only one problem rapid the small boy was the son of any blacksmith. The actual princess's biological father would never enable her to marry an effective son of a blacksmith. However , their really enjoy was also strong. In one fell rush, the young boy elevated an affiliate marketer of undead and commenced a rebellion to destruction the malignant king just who did not trust true love. Following months for fighting about the armies of his beloved's father, the very young man was assassinated and the war was more than. No music were sang.

You can see that the quality of the content is quite low and the readability is not that good either, but it should pass a test, though not human. However, the default settings produce the above content and here is the spintax file:

Spinner Chief Default Spinner Results

Spinner Chief Super Spin

Now here are the results from the "Super Spin" functionality:

A long time ago right now there lived a boy. He had blue eyes with blond hair as yellowish as gold. The young boy was small and fragile, but his mind was swift just like the wind. He could calculate the outcome of any situation in the blink of an eye. But that had not been his biggest talent. No. His biggest skill was perception. The young boy could understand and perceive anything quicker than anyone he previously ever met. Then, he fell in love with a beautiful princess. She acquired magnetic green eye and light brown locks. He loved her quite definitely and she loved him back more even. There was only 1 problem - the young boy was the son of a blacksmith. The princess's father could not allow her to marry a straightforward child of a blacksmith. But their love was too strong. In one fell swoop, the young boy raised an army of undead and began a rebellion to overthrow the evil king who did not believe in true love. After months of fighting against the armies of his beloved's father, the youthful boy was assassinated and the battle was over. No songs were sang.

Now that's much better. The quality is definitely higher and this content should pass as human readable. The uniqueness of the spin is 83% according to Spinner Chief which is not bad at all considering the quality to readability ratio. Here is the spintax file for those interested:

Pros and Cons

Now that we saw each of these content spinning tools in action, let's summarize their pros and cons.

WordAI

As we saw, WordAI creates amazing content for an automatic spinner. It will easily pass as human readable, especially if it is generated by the "Turing" spinner. The web interface also offers a manual edition of your spintax if you are not happy with the results.

WordAI Pros

- Produces unique human readable content with both the "Standard Spinner".
- Creates high quality human readable and unique content using the "Turing Spinner".
- Extremely easy to use.
- No limit on the daily API requests.
- You can add your own custom thesaurus.
- Is a web interface, so you can access it from any device.
- Can spin foreign languages - Spanish, French, and Italian.
- Is integrated with absolutely every top internet marketing tool.

WordAI Cons

- Quite expensive for beginner online marketers.

Anything above that will be charged additionally ($10 per 1,000,000 words for the "Standard Spinner", and $3 per 10,000 for the "Turing Spinner"). However, they do offer custom plans for heavy API users - all you need to do is contact them.
- Doesn't offer a lifetime license.

Spin Rewriter

I personally love this one. It creates amazing content and is extremely affordable. We use a combination of WordAI and Spin Rewriter for our SEO projects, because these two are just an amazing combination. I think Spin Rewriter beats the "Standard Spinner" of WordAI in terms of quality and human readability, but loses to its "Turing Spinner". So what we do is use the "Turing Spinner" for Tier 1 projects and then Spin Rewriter for the lower tiers. Sometimes we might switch them up, but it really depends a lot on the situation.

Spin Rewriter Pros

Spin Rewriter Cons

- Has a limit of 300 API requests per day.
- Supports only English.

The Best Spinner

I have heard from many marketers that if you will be performing manual spinning, this is the tool you'd want to use. The Best Spinner is a desktop application so it offers a lot more functionality than WordAI and Spin Rewriter.

The Best Spinner Pros

- Has a built-in English thesaurus with hundreds of millions of entries which are added manually by users writing articles.
- Has a "Cloud Thesaurus" which offers great English language thesaurus.

- Supports spinning of German, French, Spanish, Italian, Swedish, and Portuguese (both Brazilian and Portugal).

- Is a lot more than just a content spinner - can also compare two articles side-by-side in terms of uniqueness, has a built-in content generation tool which creates tips and snippets for a large variety of popular topics, and much more.

The Best Spinner Cons

- Doesn't have a web interface so you can only access it on the devices which you have it installed on.
- Doesn't offer a free trial.
- Doesn't offer a lifetime license.

Chimp Rewriter

Chimp Rewriter is yet another great content spinning tool. It is also a desktop application like The Best Spinner, but it is somewhat easier to use.

Chimp Rewriter Cons

- Doesn't have a web interface so you can only access it on the devices which you have it installed on.
- Has a limit of 1500 API requests per month.

Spinner Chief

And then we have Spinner Chief, which probably offers more functionality than any other of the tools we have looked at today.

Spinner Chief Pros

- Creates good unique human readable content using the default thesaurus.
- Generates quality unique and human readable content using the "Miracle Thesaurus", which is a special thesaurus created by the Spinner Chief team.
